Let us be quiet for a moment. Part of that process is a discipline of slowing to a pace where we can notice – really notice – what we have, what we have done, who we are and who we are. It is indeed a rare and beautiful moment.

Winter is not upon us, but neither is it the full blown growth and play of summer.

I was at the Common Ground Country Fair yesterday. In the stillness I hear in every blade of grass, in every speck of dust, in every part of my own body, in the visible and invisible worlds, in the planets, the sun, and the stars, the joyous dance of the atoms through endless time.

Today the peace of autumn pervades the world. Autumn Praise Wreath Supplies: and cherry have been particularly loud this year – flaming orange and yellow, and stunning reds lighting up the trees along the roadside.
