There is indeed little or nothing of the ceremonial law in all the book of Psalms. Never any good tree grew of itself; it is the planting of the Lord, and therefore he must in it be glorified. This part of his character is put first, because those that will keep the commandments of their God must say to evil-doers, Depart from us Ps.

This we must do day and night; we must have a constant habitual regard to the word of God as the rule of our actions and the spring of our comforts, and we must have it in our thoughts, accordingly, upon every occasion that occurs, whether night or day. The seat of the drunkards is the seat of the scornful, Ps.
