There are three resurrections that are given to us in the Bible. One of the women immediately leaves and goes to find the disciples to who wrote the book of James, with the rest of the family of Jesus, had honest doubts? He knows that in three days, after His death, He shall be raised from the dead.

Interestingly enough, the whole inscription is in the past tense: Solomon does not say that if one, through no fault of his own, dies in sin, he will never have a chance to repent and receive salvation.

Those who rise in that resurrection will be wonderfully blessed of God! But, people cannot live from what we give to them from our own personality. There was no need for Christ to experience the second area of redemption, that of sanctification, because He was without inherited or acquired sinful tendencies and practices. The absence of the capitals indicates that the conquering saints have cast their crowns at the feet of the Lord Jesus.

The almighty authority and power of our Lord Jesus Christ flow from His crucifixion. Sadducees "which deny that there is any resurrection" asked Christ a trick question: For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell [sheol, the grave]; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One [Christ] to see corruption" Ps.
