The dam will have involuntary contractions that may last from 6 to 12 hours. Mark is a small animal veterinarian. Eclampsia is a true medical emergency and you must contact us immediately if you suspect it. In most cases when mother dogs kill their pup, it's because there is something wrong with the pups or mother dog was simply not mature enough to be a mother. At the end of pregnancy is when movements should be more noticeable. It just depends on how much she ate before birth. It took me a few moments to scrub the dam and she took him back to the vet yesterday and unfortunately had to put him out: How can I know if there is milk in my dogs' nipples?
