Jan 23, Karina rated it really liked it Shelves: They chose the areas of research they wanted to explore. Toviewit,click. It was really exciting to read science fiction where the science is machine learning and natural language processing. It starts with a huge lecture on the history of people trying to predict the future. Two different authors on two different editions 3 15 Jul 25,

Impression I enjoyed this anthology a lot. Like all anthologies, there are some stories I like more than others - my fantasy loving sensibilities This is an incredible anthology.
